World's Fair Opens Today In Seattle

By PAUL WELLS

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Seattle and tens of thousands of visitors prepared to step into the 21st century today at the tap of President Kennedy's finger, officially opening the first U.S. world's fair since 1940.

The countdown for the six-month exposition, billed as a space age fair and keyed to the theme of the "world of tomorrow" was to end at noon with a touch of a gold telegraph key by the vacationing President from Palm Beach, Fla.

A brief, telephoned message from Kennedy, preceding the signal, will be piped by loudspeaker throughout the 74-acre fairgrounds for the milling crowd, which will begin surging through the gates an hour earlier.

Before the President's accolade, federal, state and civic dignitaries will have paid their tribute.

Heading the government delegation was Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges. The state was represented by Gov. Albert D. Rosellini, the city by Mayor Gordon S. Clinton.

First-day attendance was predicted to be 100,000. Ten million visitors are expected before the fair's close Oct. 21. Advance ticket sales have topped $4 million, or half the number needed for the fair to break even financially.

The wares of 50 foreign nations, including more than 30 government exhibits, and 175 domestic exhibitors are spread through the compact grounds.

Eye-catchers are the soaring, 600-foot space needle, the fair's symbol; the beautiful $10-million U.S. science pavilion designed by Detroit architect Minoru Yamasaki; the $4.2-million, high-speed monorail, whisking passengers over a 1-mile route from a downtown terminal; and the $4-million Washington State coliseum with its "world of tomorrow" theme.

Alarmed Over Financial Conditions

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—Clarence E. Manion, dean of the College of Law at Notre Dame University, told Harding College students and conferees to the 23rd annual Freedom Forum here today, "I think now is the time to sound an alarm" about the financial condition of the United States.

He said the advertised debt of the United States was $300 billion. But Manion said the real figure is more than three times that.

"This is the burden your older statesmen have placed upon your shoulders," he told the students. "There is less than no gold behind the dollar we work so hard to get. The U.S. is broke today."

Manion's theme was "The Price of Freedom is Responsibility." He said the word that means Americanism is responsibility. He said Americans must realize responsibility in self government, constitutional government and most important a responsibility for the spread of atheistic communism.

"The informed individual can effect the proper type of reformation in these troubled times," Manion said. "I see the beginning of a dangerous conflagration that unheeded may billow up to the point where it wipes out . . . the Constitutional system of our country."

"The only thing that will destroy Communism . . . is the . . . dedication of the United States," Manion said. "We are in an extreme position."

Manion joined feature speaker Eddie Rickenbacker, and Harding President George S. Benson in taking a swipe at Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark.

He said some people say the United States cannot win the fight against Communism. "You have a senator in Arkansas who has said as much," Manion said.

Other speakers today are Brig. Gen. William P. Campbell, Cmdr. Paul Terry, Mrs. Carol Lippman, Perry Mason and Dr. A. T. Bouscaren.

Traditional Good Friday Observance

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector (AP)—Arab Christians and pilgrims from around the globe bowed before the traditional site of Calvary at dawn this Good Friday inside the walled city.

Church bells rang out across the hills of Jerusalem. Skies were overcast and drizzling.

A few hundred yards from the Holy Sepulchre — built on the ground where Christians believe Christ was buried—Jordanian desert troops peered from sand-bagged medieval walls across a man's land to the Israeli sector of Jerusalem. But the frontier was peaceful for the day.

Thousands of devout pilgrims were expected to follow Christ's last walk later in the day, but under the weight of full size crosses along the twisting, stone-flagged Via Dolorosa that marks the Way of the Cross.

Jerusalem's hotels and private houses in the old walled quarter were jammed with visitors for Easter week, which this year stretches to April 29, when Eastern churches celebrate the resurrection. The Tourist Bureau estimated about 6,000 pilgrims were here already.

Covered alleyways and bazaars — barely wide enough for burdened donkeys to pass — were thronged with Americans and Europeans in newly bought Arab headaddresses, nuns and monks in robes from faraway lands, dark-faced Ethiopians, Copts from Egypt, and Armenians from Lebanon.

At the foot of the Mount of Olives Thursday night believers knelt in candlelit darkness around the huge rock where tradition says Jesus underwent his agony after Judas betrayed him.

Anglicans and Arab evangelists held devotions in the same hillside garden. Lutherans walked from their church through the gate in the city wall to services in the onion-domed Russian church at the foot of the mountain. Other worshippers gathered in churches throughout the city. More than 100 Christian sects are represented in the city.

Roman Catholics worshipped in the massive church of the Holy Sepulchre, so weakened by age that the whole structure threatens to collapse.

House Okays Big Budget for Military

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has unanimously approved the nation's biggest peacetime military budget—a hefty $47.8 billion for the next fiscal year.

The appropriation bill was approved 388-0 in a roll-call vote Wednesday and sent to the Senate.

The money bill, $67.5 million less than Kennedy had requested, continues to emphasize a buildup of conventional ground forces and weapons capable of fighting limited as well as global wars.

The bill earmarks 18 per cent of the money for such items as six more Polaris firing nuclear submarines and 200 more Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missiles.

The bill is $1.3 billion more than Congress approved last year. The new measure is for fighting forces and military hardware. Still to come are appropriations for military construction, civil defense. Continued on Page Two

Plane Lands on Store's Parking Lot

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A private airplane landed today in the empty parking lot of a retail discount house here.

Police identified the pilot as Claude Timmons, 50, of Pampa, Tex., and Siloam Springs, Ark. He was treated at a hospital for lacerations, not believed serious.

Timmons told officers he had flown his daughter to Pampa and was en route to Siloam Springs when his single engine aircraft developed trouble. He was attempting to reach a downtown airport but was forced to land on the asphalt-covered parking lot.

Timmons landed before the store—American Mutual—opened for business. Normally the lot is jammed with hundreds of automobiles.

Wheels of the airplane were sheared off and the propeller was bent.

GOPs Slam Kennedy for Steel Action

By LARRY OSIUS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican congressional leaders have unloaded some of their sharpest criticism of President Kennedy since he took office, claiming he used police state methods to "blackjack" steel companies into rescinding a price increase.

In a formal statement released Thursday, they charged Kennedy with ordering or supporting nine actions last week that "unpermitted basic American rights, went far beyond the law, and were more characteristic of a police state than a free government."

These "punitive, heavy handed and frightening" actions amounted to "a display of naked political power never before seen in this nation," said the statement issued on behalf of Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and other GOP leaders in Congress.

It drew a quick reply from the Senate's assistant Democratic leader, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota. He said the GOP leaders had again shown "an inborn, uncanny ability to get on the wrong side of major issues."

Eight companies announced $600 million price increases last week but later backed down in the face of strong opposition from the President, who said such increases were not in the public interest.

The Republican statement said "We condone nothing in the actions of the steel companies except their right to make an economic judgment without massive retaliation by the federal government."

"Temporarily President Kennedy may have won a political victory, but at the cost of doing violence to the fundamental precepts of a free society."

"This nation must realize that we have passed within the shadow of police state methods."

The party leaders said the main question is, should the President "use the enormous powers of the federal government to blackmail any segment of our free society, into line with his personal judgment without regard to law?"

Ministers to Meet

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan announced today that a meeting of Commonwealth prime ministers will open in London Sept. 10 to discuss Britain's entry into the European Common Market.

Judges Moan About Lack of Road Funds

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Four county judges met with State Highway Department officials here Thursday and said a lack of local money has kept counties from using all federal funds available for roads.

And Judge O. W. Taylor of Columbia County, told the state officials he feels the department is trying to discourage judges from building roads.

"I have the impression that everytime you (the department) help a county judge build a road," Taylor said, "you look at it as money lost by the Highway Department."

The Arkansas County Judges Association is expected to press the 1963 legislature for a larger share of gasoline and license tax revenues.

In addition to the lack of funds, several judges feel road building specifications are too demanding and result in higher costs.

Oliver and his chief engineer, Ward Goodman, denied an allegation by Taylor that the present setup was a "conflict of interest" proposition to the department.

Oliver refuted this saying counties in the past have used only 25 per cent of their matching funds annually without waiting for the year to terminate.

The state, Oliver said, is not in a position to leave over $1 million of matching funds idle for a year.

The director noted that since the counties' secondary road program began, the counties combined have used only $20 million and of this total, the seven largest counties have spent $13 million.

Thursday's meeting, also attended by Jefferson County Judge Joe T. Henslee and Pope County Judge R. D. Howell, resulted from a legislative proposal to place all county roads under the state highway system.

Integrate Reserves, Army Orders

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon has directed that all-Negro and all-white Reserve units be integrated as rapidly as is consistent with military effectiveness. The move was aimed at tightening compliance with a 14-year-old order.

The directive, it disclosed today, does not apply to the National Guard which the Defense Department said is an organization of volunteers under the command of the respective governors.

While sidestepping a possible clash with Southern governors, Defense Department indicated it hoped to make progress in guard integration through consultation and persuasion.

Officials said 10 states still maintain segregated National Guard units. The list was not available immediately.

The Reserve integration action was ordered by Roswell L. Gilpatric, deputy secretary of defense, in an April 3 memorandum to the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Gilpatric said it is aimed at assuring compliance with a 1948 executive order by then President Truman banning racial segregation in the armed forces.

A high official said the regular Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine, or otherwise.

Easter Brings Many Moods; Fun, Prayer

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Here and there and nearly everywhere today, there was a special mood.

It was in countless homes, where parents busily splashed eggs with garish colors, while the kids were out at play.

It was in the stores, where women young and old made last-minute prayers for new spring bonnets.

It was on the roads, in bus and train terminals and in the air, where travelers headed on holiday outings.

It was in the narrow streets of old Jerusalem, in the great plazas and basilicas of Rome, and at shrines and sacred sites in many lands, where pilgrims gathered.

It was at mountainside amphitheaters, in woods and parks and stadiums where huge celebrations were being readied.

It was in the music and colloquies of the airwaves.

It was in the green of the new grass of 1962, and in the fresh flowers.

And chiefly, it was in the many-beating hearts, and in unnumbered places of worship around the earth, great and small, where Christians came together to wait and pray—and share the triumph of their Lord.

It was the eve of their great festival, of the assurance to them that real life and love has ultimate power over death and injustice, that God has extended hope and confidence outstripping any present trouble.

"In the world you shall have tribulation, but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world."

It is the eve of the resurrection of Jesus, of Easter.

And its mingled bustle and bloom shed a special weekend luster in the affairs and cities of men.

Behind the Iron Curtain and outside it, in totalitarian lands and the free, the faithful prepared to mark an event that to them is the great beacon of human destiny.

There were difficulties and opposition in some places. But that is part of the story. "Let not your heart be troubled . . . because I live ye shall live also."

Orthodox and Baptist churches in Moscow scheduled special services tonight and Sunday, as did churches elsewhere in Communist countries.

Rome, where 80-year-old Pope John XXIII led the observances, swarmed with an estimated 150,000 visitors. The city's 500 church bells were silent today, but rang out tonight at midnight mass commemorating the blessed event.

Jap Fishing Captains Free on Bond

KODIAK, Alaska (AP)—Three Japanese fishing boat captains charged with poaching in Alaskan waters were free on bond today with four more days to get out of Shelikof Strait, between Kodiak Island and the mainland.

As they moved out, diplomatic waters between Japan and the United States rippled over the incident.

Capt. Mongo Hanasaki of the Banshu Maru, mother ship for five catcher vessels, was freed Thursday on $2,500 bond. Tadato Higashima and Satoshi Mine, captains of two catcher craft, were freed on $500 bond each.

Their trial is to be in Anchorage. The time has not been set. The trio was arrested last week, accused of violating Alaska fishing regulations.

Whether they were in international waters or waters belonging to Alaska is the question. In Washington, Lincoln White, State Department press officer, said the Supreme Court of Alaska will decide that.

In Tokyo, the Japanese position was that the nation does not recognize Shelikof Strait as territorial waters, and Japan has never been notified by U.S. or Alaskan authorities that the strait is an inland body of water.

The Japanese fishermen were freed after herring, they said, and that type of fish was dropped from the list of the Canada.

Japan-U.S. North Pacific fishery treaty last year.

In Juneau, Gov. William Egan said, "The state has no choice but to enforce its fishing regulations, whether the violator is an Alaskan, a citizen of another state, or otherwise."

'April in Paris' Will Be Theme of Flower Show Staged by Garden Clubs

By MARY ANITA LASETER

It may be April in Arkansas now, but it will be "April in Paris" at the 18th annual flower show presented by the Hope Council of Garden Clubs next Thursday at the Youth Center from 2:30 to 8:30 p.m.

What you will see will be an idea of Paris in the Spring. The Artistic Design Division will have charming classes such as Eiffel Tower, Fleur de lis, and L' impression Artiste. The Paris Ballet will be depicted in the Shadow Box exhibits, and Les Champs Elysees, the avenue famous for its many fashion houses, will be interpreted in still another group of exhibits.

The banks of the Seine River in Paris will be the subject of arrangements using driftwood. Approximately, the crescent arrangements will be entitled Paris Le Soir or The Paris Evening.

A simulated pool and fountain will center the exhibits with informal table arrangements depicting the famous French Coffee Houses. The renowned French Flower Carts will be seen in a classification called The Florist.

Members of the six local garden clubs will be entering exhibits. These clubs are Azalea, Daffodil, Gardenia, Iris, Lilac and Rose. The Junior Garden Clubs, Daffodil, Sprouts and Climbers will have two special divisions. The one in a can will be called Can, and another in a round container will be Carrousel.

Mrs. J. S. Gibson, President of the Council, has named the following committee general chairman, Mrs. Talbot Field Jr.; schedule, Mrs. Charles Stone; propenities, Mrs. Lamar Cox; artistic arrangements, Mrs. George Hughes; theme, Mrs. Carl Bramlett; horticulture, Mrs. R. L. Broach.

Horticulture entries and classification, Mrs. Sam Strong; artistic arrangement entries and classification, Mrs. Loyd Kinard; artistic placement, Mrs. Guy Downing; chairman of the judges, Mrs. J. S. Gibson; publicity, Mrs. Steve Bader; clerks, Mrs. J. O. Luck for arrangements and Mrs. Herbert Dodson for horticulture.

Junior Garden Club, Mrs. Harold Brents; education and conservation, Mrs. Ralph Emerson; awards, Miss Mark K. Lehman; music and lighting, Mrs. Roy Stephens; hospitality, Mrs. Anthony; dismantling, Mrs. B. W. Edwards; special arrangements, Mrs. Hollis Luck.

The names in the preceding paragraphs are merely those of committee chairmen, and if their committees were listed also, it would be easy to see that every garden club member in Hope is working toward making a success of this flower show with a French accent.

Walker Aide Muzzled by the Pentagon

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Major Archibald E. Roberts has been suspended by the Army while it investigates a speech he made without Pentagon clearance. The swift, stiff Pentagon action recalled that taken last year against his former boss, ex-Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

Roberts, 46, got a standing ovation from the Daughters of the American Revolution Thursday for an off-the-cuff talk in which he charged some government officials have leftist leanings. He applied that label to G. Mennen Williams, former governor of Michigan who is now assistant secretary of state for African affairs, and to Mayor Samuel Yorty of Los Angeles.

Yorty issued a statement in Los Angeles saying the charge was ridiculous. He said it "serves mightily the Communist objective" by causing confusion which aids subversives.

Williams is traveling in Africa and was unavailable for comment. Thursday night, Roberts got word from his commander at Ft. Lee, Va., Col. John B. Hines, that he "has been suspended from performance of military duty pending further investigation of statements made in a public speech in Washington."

Roberts said he had not been under orders to submit his speech for Pentagon clearance. And he told a reporter "an investigation to me means that they will hear both sides. I hope that we will have the truth. I've made my word from his commander at Ft. Lee, Va., Col. John B. Hines, that he "has been suspended from performance of military duty pending further investigation of statements made in a public speech in Washington."

Ex-Gen. Salan To Trial for Terrorism

By JOSEPH E. DYMAN

PARIS (AP)—Ex-Gen. Raoul Salan, captured chief of the European Secret Army Organization, today faced a military trial and probable death sentence. His supporters in the Algerian terrorist campaign recoiled under the impact of his arrest.

The secret army vowed to continue its desperate battle against Algerian independence, but many observers felt Salan's capture represented a crippling and possible death blow to the underground organization.

Salan, one of France's most decorated soldiers, was the great rallying symbol to several thousand European right-wingers and French army deserters. The extremists have been terrorizing Algerian Moslems in hopes of forcing Moslem retaliation that would prompt the government to call off plans for self-determination in Algeria.

Word of Salan's capture in the heart of Algiers Friday plunged Algeria's European population into gloom. "We are lost," said a European resident of Algiers.

Salan was flown to Paris handcuffed and rushed to Sainte Prison. Some 300 of his followers demonstrated outside the prison, and imprisoned sympathizers rioted and set fire to a wooden partition inside.

Salan, 63, a former five-star general, had been on the fugitive list for a year. His arrest removed from circulation the last of four major figures in the abortive general's revolt against De Gaulle in April 1961.

Salan already had been sentenced to death in absentia. But under French law, the sentence will be set aside and he will be tried in person, probably within a few weeks. The charges will stem from the revolt and his secret army leadership.

Says Russia Optimistic Over Berlin

MOSCOW (AP) — Gardner Cowles, American publisher, described Soviet Premier Khrushchev today as very cautiously optimistic over the Berlin crisis.

Cowles, after a two-hour 50-minute interview with Khrushchev, said the Soviet leader appeared in the best of health.

He added that Khrushchev gave the impression of a man who wants peace and one who hopes that tension between the Communist world and the West can be reduced.

"The talk covered a wide range of subjects including disarmament negotiations in Geneva, Berlin, Soviet agriculture and relations among the Soviet bloc countries." Cowles commented that the interview took place in the same Kremlin study where he talked with Joseph Stalin in 1942. Cowles saw Stalin while accompanying the late Wendell Wilkie on a tour of the Soviet Union.

Reporters noted that Khrushchev's recent letter to British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan indicated the Soviet leader appeared to be less hopeful about a solution to the German problem. Cowles replied: "He looked to me to be very cautiously optimistic on Berlin."

The official text of the interview will be delivered to Cowles in Washington next week. He said it had not been decided how the interview will be published, but that it probably will be released to the press.

The publisher said he began by congratulating Khrushchev on his 68th birthday last Tuesday. Khrushchev replied that in the Soviet Union "We only celebrate our birthdays every 10 years and I will have to wait another two years for my next one."

Cowles is president of the Des Moines Register and Tribune and

DAR Wants Probe of Suspension

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Daughters of the American Revolution asked a congressional investigation today of the Army's suspension of Maj. Archibald E. Roberts, but Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., said he favored leaving the investigation to the Army at this time.

Thurmond, who has been battling for months against what he called Pentagon muzzling of military officers, said he thought an Army investigation was appropriate if Roberts had in fact questioned the loyalty of Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles and Asst. Secretary of State G. Mennen Williams.

"I will wait the Army's investigation report before passing any judgment on this incident," Thurmond said.

Roberts, in an off-the-cuff speech to the DAR Thursday, said Yorty once was described to the House Committee on Un-American Activities as one member of a Communist faction in the California Legislature. He described Williams, former governor of Michigan, as having leftist leanings.

The Army suspended Roberts Thursday night, promptly after hearing reports of his speech to the DAR.

He is now under orders not to leave his post, Ft. Lee, Va.

The DAR delegates applauded vigorously as they passed the resolution which requested Congress "to investigate this arbitrary exercise of power."

The resolution cited the provisions of freedom of speech in the Constitution and said the Army of the United States of America had "summarily suspended Maj. Roberts from performance of his duties in retaliation for an unrelaxed speech" delivered before the DAR Thursday.

It said that thereby there had been "penalized an informed and respected member of the military" who quoted from established records in an attempt to warn the society of the dangers of Communist penetration into this country. "Roberts, 46, is a former aide to ex-Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker who was relieved of his command in Germany last year on a finding that he had made derogatory public statements about prominent Americans."

Candidate for State Senate

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Steve Combs of Springfield (Conway County) filed today as a candidate for state senator in the 10th District, which includes Conway, Perry and Pope counties.

The post now is held by Sen. Robert Hays Williams of Russellville, who has not said if he will seek reelection. L. L. Bryan of Russellville already has filed for the job.

Combs served in the senate during the 1939 and 1941 sessions as senator from the old 12th district.

Woman Beaten at Fayetteville

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A 74-year-old woman was beaten as she walked to work at the University of Arkansas Student Union early today.

Mrs. Della Jones was the fifth woman attacked and beaten here since the first of the year. Four younger women were beaten by a man who broke into their homes while they slept.

Today's attack occurred within four blocks of the scenes of three of the other beatings. The attack was just before 5 a.m. about a half-block from the student union. She said the man knocked her to the ground and continued beating her with his fist. When she began screaming, she said, he ran. She was hospitalized with a broken cheekbone. She was a cook in Student Union.

Life on Farm Has Its Advantages

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: As a farmer's wife I must speak out concerning the gripes of other farmers' wives and daughters which appeared recently in your column. There may be a few in the category complained of, but taken as a whole, I would not trade places with Mrs. John Fitzgerald Kennedy herself.

I challenge anyone to distinguish a farmer or his wife by speech, dress or actions, from those of any other profession.

Farm women are grateful for good roads; for buses which take their children to and from schools ranking among the best; for the convenience of the electrical equipment that enables them to cook and serve their own farm-produced beef, pork, fryers and roasters, as well as for fresh from the garden vegetables and fruit.

To be sure, these luscious luxuries don't come free. There is work. But such is the yield that no farmer's wife need be embarrassed when friends and relatives drop in unexpectedly. A farm is the best place on earth to raise children; they learn to work, to appreciate nature's wonders and creations; the beauty of an apple tree in bloom; the glory of a sunset; the angelic appeal of newborn lambs and all the other young things entering our world at the spring of the year.

Easter is the beginning of a new life for so many. Our children are healthy youngsters. With an abundance of home-grown vegetables and fruit, real butter, milk, cream and eggs, they don't require vitamin supplements.

Every day I thank the Lord for this wonderful earth which yields so generously of the good things of life. From my back porch in the early morning sun, I see beef cattle, a dairy herd, and acres of waving grain. I catch a glimpse of the clean straight rows in our vegetable garden, and my roses and perennials present a picture that causes my heart to rejoice, my cup runneth over. —Mrs. A. J. Johnson, Provo, Utah.

Dear Mrs. Johnson: I read your letter aloud to my husband and tears came to his eyes for he spent much of his boyhood on a Colorado ranch and a Missouri farm. Utah, he knows equally well, having passed the greater part of his life discovering and developing mining properties in the Wasatch Mountains. Last autumn we drove through Provo on our way to the Tintic Mining district. It was harvest time and at the entrance roads to all the big farms were stands piled high with fragrant red-checked apples, enormous golden orange pumpkins and russet pears. Unable to resist their beauty, we bought recklessly, far more than we could use. Perhaps these fruits and vegetables were grown on your farm!

Dear Helen: Not long ago you published a letter from a young wife whose mother-in-law balked at baby sitting for her, even in an emergency. May I suggest, as a partial solution, a baby-sitting co-operative which works on a point system rather than a money basis.

We have no parents on either side to help us, nor do we like to pay excessive prices for inexperienced baby-sitters. This co-operative gives my husband and me a chance to go out frequently, divert funds to cultural activities and enables us to meet wonderful new people who are in the same boat with us.

By taking turns in baby-sitting, we can all lead human lives, serene in the knowledge that our children are being cared for by

Would Investigate Agriculture Chief

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A California turkey grower called Thursday for a congressional investigation of the Department of Agriculture.

George Nicholas of Sonoma, Calif., president of the Independent Turkey Producers of America, told the group's executive committee here that Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman "is making a vicious and deliberate power grab x x x which could lead to complete socialization of the American farmer."

Nicholas said he based his accusations of the USDA's plan to hold a national referendum in June or whether controls should be established on turkey production. He said Freeman had allowed himself two ways to count the ballot and ordered that no information on vote counts be released at county and state levels. Nicholas also criticized Freeman for calling the election "despite industry-wide pleas that it not be held."

Ouachita Plans Extension Center

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Ouachita Baptist College will establish an extension center at Camden, Dr. Ralph Phelps, college president, announced today.

The center will be set up in the administration area of the former Shumaker Ordnance Depot, Phelps said. Facilities can be set up with little more preparation than transporting teachers from Arkadelphia to Camden, he added.

Phelps said the college has not decided what courses will be offered at Camden during the first semester. "We are intentionally keeping plans flexible so we can offer whatever may be needed when an industry decides to locate at Shumaker," he said.

The extension center will serve a two-fold purpose—to help industrial development of the Shumaker facility and the provide courses for students unable to attend on the Arkadelphia campus, Phelps said.

Brown Engineering Corp., of Houston, Tex., bought the administration area at Shumaker when the government sold it last year. Brown said it would attempt to interest industry in locating at the site.

Ever since I told a woman that it made for a happier marriage if her husband loved her more than she him, miffed spouses have been bombarding me with irate letters. The latest from Raleigh, N. C. keeps it short and sour. "I think you're crazy as hell on this point," he storms.

and military assistance abroad. In recent years the Senate generally has been more liberal than the House, and even the administration, with the Pentagon's purse strings. So the final figure could be even higher.

The House version would support 2,683,881 active military personnel and reserve forces of 1,003,500.

The House voted more than was asked for Army Reserve and National Guard forces, but the action would not prevent Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara from going ahead with his proposal to trim these forces by 58,000.

The House measure would also give McNamara virtually a free hand to continue the controversial RS70 bomber program at the current cautious rate, or to use additional millions provided to expedite radar research if his experts recommend it.

position clear."

Roberts delivered his off-the-cuff talk to the DAR after the text of his originally planned address was denied clearance by the Pentagon. It was used when Walker commanded the 24th Infantry Division in Germany. Stories in a publication called "Overseas Weekly"—which also drew Roberts' fire in the DAR speech—led to a Pentagon investigation of Walker's program.

Walker was later relieved of his command and admonished by the Army on grounds he tried to influence the votes of his men in the 1960 congressional election, and made derogatory remarks about prominent Americans. He quit the Army last Nov. 2 and now seeks the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas.

Integrate

rine Corps have been integrated but that there is some question whether it has been done fully and effectively in the Reserve elements of these services.

Unlike the National Guard, the Reserves are totally under federal control. Gilpatrick directed two specific steps and called for an initial report by May 1.

The two steps:

1. "The identification of all Negro and all-white Reserve units, and initiation of action to integrate them as rapidly as is consistent with military effectiveness."

2. "An overall review of the assignment of Negroes to Reserve units to determine if a disproportionate number are assigned to pools. Where this is found to be so, positive measures should be taken consistent with the military requirements and the skills of the personnel involved to provide for the assignment of more Negroes to specific Reserve units."

Thinks Clergy in Way of Man and God

CHICAGO (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Karl Barth, pre-eminent Protestant religious thinker and advocate of strict Bible interpretation, contends that clergymen get in the way between man and God. Dr. Barth, on his first American visit, told a news conference Thursday there is a place for the clergy in Christianity but pastors "should regard themselves not as lords but as servants."

"My experience shows that men will understand regardless of words if the message is proclaimed simply and clearly," he said.

Clergymen fail, he believes, when instead of "accepting humankind and the fact that it is loved by God, they separate sheep and goats."

"God will do that," Dr. Barth said. The Swiss theologian, 75, said that the judgment of God is especially important in relation to communism.

"The godlessness of communism is a peculiar one but not entirely unlike the godlessness of Switzerland and the United States," he said. "Our approach to the difference that is involved must be with love."

He declared that his task is to teach what the real nature of the Gospel is. Before he could do this, he added, "I had to understand that Christianity means a covenant, an encounter between God and man, and now the problem is to understand God and man without mixing them up."

Dr. Barth is in Chicago to visit his son, Markus, a member of the University of Chicago Divinity School. He will also deliver five lectures next week.

Dr. Barth gained fame during the 1930s for his stand against Hitler in Europe, and has been the originator and leader of one of the major movements in Protestant theology.

He calls his movement evangelical theology. He described his life as an effort to counterbalance the humanism of the 19th Century by a return to the Bible in which God talks to men.

State Record Set in Pole Vault

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Darrell Ward, a senior at Little Rock Central High School, pole vaulted 13 feet, 3 1/2 inches in the Tiger Relay here Thursday night, and Arkansas State Teachers' Don Owen blazed to a 9.7 seconds clocking in the 100-yard dash.

Ward's vault bettered the state high school record by eight inches.

For Owen, it was his first victory over his brother, Wilbur, this year. Wilbur and Don teamed up in the relays for three firsts, and an unofficial 48.2 last lap in the mile relay.

Teachers beat old foe Louisiana Tech, 70 points to 62 1/2. Arkansas A&M collected 22 1/2 points.

Central's Tigers won easily in the high school division, and West Side of Little Rock swept through the junior high division.

One Killed in Georgia Race Trouble

By DON MCKEE

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) - Police clamped a tight security lid on this east Georgia city today after the fatal shooting of one white teen-ager and the wounding of another in a predominantly Negro section.

Seventeen persons, including 14 teen-agers, both white and Negro, were arrested. Extra-duty policemen, seeking to stem a four-day tide of racial disorder, rounded up carloads of youths carrying knives, clubs and iron pipe.

The slaying victim was Leslie Lee Lutes, 16. He was killed Thursday night by a pistol bullet under the left eye and was peppered in the back of the head by a shotgun charge.

Lutes was sitting beside George Lewis, 15, driver of a car in which three youths were riding. Lewis was wounded by the shotgun fire. Eddie Gay, 16, on the back seat, escaped injury.

Police said they found an air rifle and a sack of rocks in the car, owned by Gay's father. Gay said he and his companions were going to a miniature golf course and lost their way. The shots came without warning, he said, and the other two boys slumped in the seat.

Gay drove to a funeral home where an ambulance took the wounded boys to a hospital. Lutes already was dead. Detective E. E. Beasley said Lewis suffered shotgun wounds of the face, neck and hands.

Shortly after the shooting, Mayor Millard Beckum made a television appeal for calmness and pledged full police resources to maintain order.

There were numerous arrests during the night, but Police Lt. M. C. Watkins said none were in connection with the shooting. Among those arrested were two Negro men and a Negro woman who were in a car which contained a shotgun. They were booked on a charge of late hours and having a weapon, Watkins said.

Seven white youths and five Negroes were arrested during the night and earlier in the day on various charges, mostly loitering and carrying weapons.

Some of the white youths had been cruising through Negro areas where there had been reports of windows broken by rocks and dented automobile fenders, Watkins said.

In the car with Lutes when he was killed were George Lewis, 15, and Eddie Gay, 16. Lewis was wounded and his condition was reported satisfactory at a hospital.

Negroes began picketing two supermarkets Monday. They said they were seeking employment opportunities at the store owned by B. D. Hammack.

Hammack told a delegation several days ago that he did not intend to hire Negro butchers and cashiers as requested.

Chapter 30

Arthur, having received Ken in his home and accepted him in the light of an escort for Jane, was now prepared to extend to him a certain good-natured tolerance.

Martin, however, was in the throes of a monumental fit of irritation. Impatient with everybody, annoyed with Thatcher, and furious with Arthur, he was barely able to play the civil host to Kenneth. His temper had not been improved by the discovery that Grace had told Arthur about his offer to purchase his stock.

"What business has she got running to you? Are you her keeper? If she wants to talk about it, why doesn't she talk to me?"

"Nonsense, Martin. It's entirely natural that Grace should come to me for advice. If she sells her stock, she will have to consider reinvesting the proceeds. She wants to know if she won't be better off staying with the firm."

"Come off it, Arthur, and stop playing the head of the family. She isn't going to you for advice; she's trying to blackmail you by threatening to sell out to me."

Arthur's lips tightened with annoyance. "Don't be childish!" he snapped. "Every investor wants more income than he's getting. Characterizing that as blackmail is simply indulging your taste for the theatrical. He cast a look of jaundiced disapproval about Martin's apartment. "You might just as well say the same thing about your efforts to have your salary raised. And for the record, I will not tolerate any increases, either in salary or dividends, until we're in a position to afford it."

"And when will that be?" asked Martin nastily. "The way things are going, I'd be better off to sell my preferred and clear out altogether."

"It's a matter of complete indifference to me what you do. All I ask is that you make up your mind. You're the one who's pressing for an immediate distribution and, might add, handing over your mother's deathbed like a ghoul," Arthur replied.

"Arthur, you know how things stand between me and Mother. I'm not going to turn sanctimonious just because she's dying."

"Have you found an outside buyer for the preferred?" Arthur asked sharply.

"No," growled Martin and then he grinned maliciously, "but that doesn't mean that I'm not looking."

Kenneth, in sudden comprehension, realized that this was a deliberate attempt to mislead. Martin.

Testimony in Murder Trial

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) - Testimony is expected to continue here today in the second trial of Mrs. Lucille Bogard, charged with first degree murder.

A 12-man jury was selected yesterday and the prosecution called three witnesses to the stand.

Mrs. Bogard is charged with the fatal shooting May 15, 1961, of her husband, Lloyd, as he ran from their home.

A neighbor, Mrs. Leroy Norman, testified Wednesday that Mrs. Bogard had told her on the morning of May 15 she planned to shoot her husband and that she later heard a shot and saw Bogard run from the house holding his side.

Mrs. Norman's husband testified that he had coffee with the Bogards the morning of the shooting and nothing seemed amiss.

Sheriff Lonnie Cooper presented a statement taken from Mrs. Bogard prior to her first trial, which ended in a deadlocked jury.

Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation was issued on Jan. 1, 1863.

lin was getting calls from the banks on his convertible debentures. "You're disgusting, Martin, can't you find any better way to amuse yourself than gossiping about Grace?"

"She makes me sick. So superior with her patronizing offers to consider selling me her stock, these complaints about her dividends—who does she think she is? Little Miss Perfection? She's a 50-year-old lush who spends too much."

tures and, if things didn't improve, his entire inheritance might be swept away in the desperate attempt to remain solvent.

"Do as you like, by all means, but you owe it to Grace not to lead her on. She has more than enough to worry about at the moment without mythical offers from you. Her financial affairs are getting worse and worse - Rowland seems a complete loss from that point of view and has heavy expenses in addition - and now she has to worry about the police questioning her. For a woman of Grace's sensitivity, it's all very difficult."

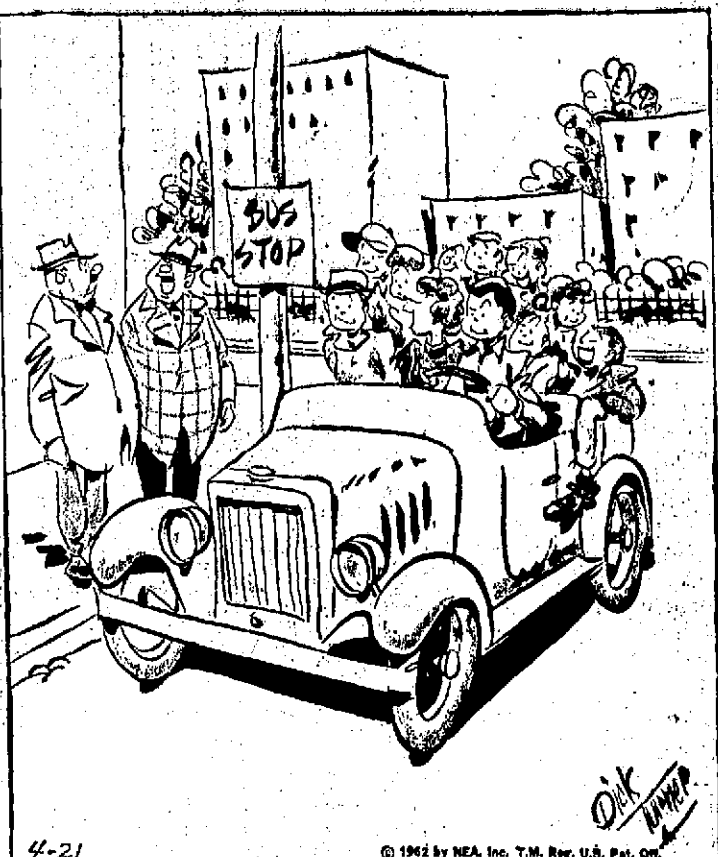

"I'm sure Mrs. Walworth has no cause to be upset," intervened Kenneth in a misguided attempt to speak soothingly on a neutral topic. "These police checks are merely routine and don't indicate any real suspicion of murder."

There was a sudden hoot of laughter from the sofa. "That's not what's worrying our Grace," burbled Martin. "She's as safe as houses. A neighbor

The IMMORTAL

...and may we sing Hallelujah! For Christ the Lord is risen. The lilies are in bloom and men and angels are in jubilation.
Because He lives, we know we too shall live.
The Greeks were wrong.
Man is not mortal, but rather immortal.
For God hath set eternity in the heart of man.
This Easter, we share the immortality of Jesus Christ. His journey to Golgotha transfigured the cross forever, turning that symbol of suffering into a symbol of triumphant life.
Then let us live like women and men who expect to go on and on forever
... world without end. This is indeed our true Christian hope. This is what Easter means to us today.
